Countries all around the world utilize migration pathways to train and bring over workers with needed skills. The CGD Migration Pathways database documents these pathways to promote innovation in this space. To explore the database, visit GSP.cgdev.org.
What impact has it had?

German employers involved in the program expressed their satisfaction with the qualifications of Tunisian candidates and the set-up of the program. Three-quarters of the beneficiaries stayed after their internships ended in Germany. Some received job offers meeting the criteria for the Blue Card (an EU residence permit for highly skilled non-EU foreign nationals). Others started studying in Germany. Participants who returned received assistance in finding jobs in Tunisia. Thanks to the success of this pilot, Germany agreed to a new mobility pact with Tunisia.

Further readings

